Fulton County Job & Family Services

PRC

Prevention, Retention & Contingency

Strengthening families
throughout Fulton County

Providing the highest quality comprehensive services for our customers in order to assist them to independence.

The Prevention, Retention, and Contingency (PRC) program was established in Ohio to help families overcome immediate barriers to achieving or maintaining self-sufficiency. The program was designed to provide benefits and services to needy families who are in need of help with essential support to move out of poverty and become self-sufficient. The PRC program provides new opportunities to develop and implement creative and innovative strategies and approaches to remove families from a cycle of dependency on public assistance and into work.

PRC, by design, has been developed to provide benefits and services that are not considered "assistance". When a benefit or service falls within the definition of "assistance", there is a set of consequences for the family, including time limits, child support assignment, and data reporting requirements.
